This here old-fashioned human face and voice as it is – the organic signature for the integrity of my broadcasts. With the rise of generative AI, we've lost our respect for genuine human presence. How lost we are in this world of illusions!

Who still stands behind their words – backing up their takes with authentic living presence? Our landscape is saturated with "hit-and-run" slop and crafty media produce – with raw human faces and voices our last bastion of truth and reality.

"How quaint that in our age of generative AI, someone should still be producing content with old-fashioned human face and voice. You must be a retro-enthusiast."

Let me rephrase that in different terms. How tragic, even disturbing, that in our age of deception, saturated with misinformation, fake news, deep-fakes, crafty media, manipulating our minds, so little value is given to authentic human presence. You see, I'm here and I stand behind every word I say.

My presence here is my organic signature. My tone of voice, my pace of articulation, facial expressions and body language – all there as a matter of the fidelity and integration of what I share. I could also write, I'm a prolific writer, yet I opt for a media that carries the fullest of my presence.

The scene of written word, as we know, is completely saturated with half-baked AI produce, with most people not bothering to indicate who the real author is. Sounds cool, slap it out, that's what people do. However, do you stand behind all those words – or does the AI, or who's backing it up?

So here's my face, here's my voice, all of me is backing up, standing behind everything I say. If truly you are so allergic to genuine human presence, to real faces and voices, then whatever – go back to your brain rot, see what it leads you.

Could I go down the deep end with generative AI, become the shadow master puppet weaver? Crafting models of archetypal patterns, wiring up memetic trigger pathways for your minds? Sure I could do that – but I choose not to. Simply because I've had plenty enough of all of these stupid games.

Instead, I choose to be here exactly as I am – with my face smack middle of it, in the front lines of all that needs to be said. If really really you don't like it, then take a moment, think about why that is. Here I am, as I am. Deal with it or don't deal with it, whatever.

On these notes, we conclude the four-part arc in the "Hearty Chatter" series, into sharing our stories from a pure and clear heart. Our parallel sister series, "By The Way", has already run its 16-episode arc in this season. In the installments that follow, "Casual Watcher" continues reporting from the witness plane.

A new series rolling out shortly, "Clear Takes" – sharp reason, solid points. You may have already seen the pilot for our "Thus Spake the Creator" series, the creator obviously being me – unframed by any of these series, carrying the umbrella for all the ongoing in our channel.

Please take a dive into our deeper ecosystem of insight, see how it's all interconnected, how it all relates to you. To you, to me, to all of us – to all of our lives. Genuine organic insight, wisdom, tales from the many walks of life. I hope you find something meaningful in all of it. If you do, then maybe just click a like or leave a comment. Let us know you're there. Thank you. Be well.
