As our consciousness evolves — in purification, refinement, unification, and liberation — we journey through a progression of distinct stations of awareness. Here we explore a general roadmap of the evolutionary path from automaton until absolution and beyond — some basic bearings for your journey. The stations are grouped into three stages, each with their major phases:

- Initial Path: Human Sphere — 1. Automaton, 2. Seeker, 3. Gardener, 4. Weaver, 5. Unifier. We wake up, orient, engage, integrate, and consummate the essences of human potential.

- Adept Path: Noumenal Sphere – 1. Elementalist, 2. Luminary, 3. Reflector, 4. Releaser. We ascend through progressive phases of conscious refinement toward absolute liberation.
- Beyond Path: Unbound Sphere – 1. Emanation, 2. Culmination, 3. Absolution. Liberated essences return and combine into immaculate culminations in universal consummation.

These stages and their phases represent major stations on the journey from the conditioned to the unconditioned – from our subjective prison to integrated unity, from hallucinations to actuality, from bondage to unbinding. Beyond the general milestones of passage, there are many minor stations and bonus levels that are excluded from this overview. Enjoy the process.

INITIAL PATH

In the initial phases of the path, we awaken to our illusions; seek reorientation in tune with truth; transform our living awareness; integrate our refined essences; and reach a unified alignment of consciousness. At this stage, we are working toward the zenith of our human sphere of existence – overcoming core obstacles and consummating incarnate potentials.

1. Automaton

In the first phase of the initial path, we awaken to our sleep-walking condition – shocked with a dawning realization of the unnecessary conflict and suffering that results from living a life of habitual conditioning. Here we are:

- Programmed Prisoner
- Unconscious Drifter
- Conditioned Instrument

Here the Automaton hears the Alarm Clock breaching into a dumb slumber of illusions.

2. Seeker

In the second phase of the initial path, we embark on a sincere quest for solutions – guided by a calling for clear direction and embodied wisdom, seeking to discover peace, fulfillment, and authentic meaning in life. Here we are:

- Sincere Inquirer
- Orienting Explorer
- Discerning Pathfinder

Here the Seeker finds the Directions for a path of perfection looming in the horizon.

3. Gardener

In the third phase of the initial path, we engage in the practice of living truth – dedicated to a process of self-improvement and transformation, endeavoring to resolve impediments and establish our actual essences. Here we are:

- Devoted Cultivator
- Skilled Practitioner
- Resolute Transformer

Here the Gardener masters the Methods for cultivating the complex ecosystem of life.

4. Weaver

In the fourth phase of the initial path, we plunge into the pool of our accumulations – immersed in excavating, purifying, consolidating, and synchronizing the essence of our life's experiences and insights. Here we are:

- Seasoned Integrator
- Polarizing Consolidator
- Reconciling Synthesizer

Here the Weaver configures the Matrix with distilled harvests from the web of existence.

5. Unifier

In the fifth phase of the initial path, we emerge into the radiant fullness of clarity – the living essences of our existence now aligned, synchronized, consummated, and crowned on the pristine throne of unification. Here we are:

- Ascendent Harmonizer
- Fulfilled Absolver
- Radiant Sovereign

Here the Unifier ascends into Wholeness in the mature convergence of this incarnation.

The Initial Conclusion

Concluding the initial path, we arrive at "human enlightenment". We transcend our human identity, operating in a unified state of clarity and alignment. We ascend to a superposition of awareness, witnessing the harmonic workings of our refined fields of human consciousness – being, seeing, feeling, wishing, willing, working, integrating, fulfilling. Our human lifecycle is consummated.

ADEPT PATH

In the adept phases of the path, we engage on the elemental plane; touch upon primordial consciousness; reflect as the mirror of unions; and vanish into the unconditioned. At this stage, transcending human reference in liberation, we establish awareness in transpersonal and foundational realities – peeling away subtle veils and approaching the absolute ground of being.

1. Elementalist

In the first phase of the adept path, we recognize abstract and omnipresent forces; modulate the supporting dynamisms of existence; and preserve the balance of influences. Our perspective covers the universal undercurrents of formation. Here we are:

- Abstract Observer
- Dynamic Conductor
- Influence Sentinel

Here the Elementalist observes and engages the Structural, Adaptive, Reactive, and Relational elements and dynamisms in the substratum of interactive space. Our consciousness attunes to infinite space itself, unbound by subtle forces of formation.

2. Luminary

In the second phase of the adept path, we ascend to pure undifferentiated consciousness; witness the formative matrix of existence; and behold the generations of plurality. Our presence abides in the singular seeds of generation. Here we are:

- Liberated Light
- Pattern Witness
- Seer of Creation

Here the Luminary experiences the distinction and decoupling of Consciousness and Patterns, of Energy and Matter, polarized as isolates at the primordial gates of becoming. Our consciousness transcends the pattern matrix and the call of creation.

3. Reflector

In the third phase of the adept path, we integrate into the consummation of existence; emanate as a continuum of absolute fluidity; and exist as an agency of polar unification. Our emergence is an intimate reflection of actuality. Here we are:

- Integral Mirror
- Absolute Adapter
- Magnetic Unifier

Here the Reflector absolves into the Integral Union of the essences of actuality, serving as a detached Catalytic Mirror of collective evolution and polar reconciliation. Our consciousness exists as a reflective hologram in transitory existence.

4. Releaser

In the fourth phase of the adept path, we abide in stillness without contents; detach from the final vestiges of identity; and vanish from the realm of causes and conditions. Our unbecoming is the absolute end of volition and illusion. Here we are:

- Silent Emptiness
- Selfless Absolution
- Unconditioned Ultimate

Here the Releaser undergoes Categorical Unbinding from the spheres of consciousness and manifestation, annulled in Absolute Neutrality before being and becoming. The subtle subject in the mirror of consciousness shatters in the ultimate release.

The Adept Conclusion

Concluding the adept path, we arrive at "noumenal enlightenment". We transcend the conditions of existence, unbound in selfless independence. Planes of manifestation will emerge and flow as they must. The essential echo of our continuum will interact with all of this, as it must, without a finite subject. What was, it has been released – into the fullness of actuality. We are free.

BEYOND PATH

In the phases beyond the path, there's a return to manifestation as streams of refined essence; culminating into immaculate archetypes; absolved as the singular perfections of the evolution of existence. At this stage, in wake of categorical unbinding, the individual subject is abolished and absent – the "we" or "I" is merely an agency of existence itself actuating its consummation.

1. Emanation

In the first phase of the beyond path, purified essences emerge from the echo of the continuum; in an unconditioned manifestation of actuality; and crystallize into their ultimate expressions and qualia. Here "we" are:

- Streams of Essence
- Liberated Emergence
- Ultimate Textures

Here the Emanation process unfolds in a kaleidoscopic cascade of essences, purified dynamisms streaming from a liberated pool, reaching for a climax of manifestation. Localized instance of consciousness exists as a prismatic reflector of emergence.

2. Culmination

In the second phase of the beyond path, purified essences pour into their vessels; weaving into pristine principal representations; and engage as liberated entities in the consummation of existence. Here "we" are:

- Vehicles of Essence
- Immaculate Archetypes
- Consummator Avatars

Here the Culmination process compiles and integrates the streams of essence into unified operative containers, boundless ambassadors of intrinsic actuality. Virtual subjects are generated as representative avatars of ultimate unbound becoming.

3. Absolution

In the third phase of the beyond path, vessels of essence are dissipated; fulfilled existence itself returns to the unbound infinite; and whatever that was ever stated, in perfected expressions, unravels and rewinds into the stateless. Here "we" are:

- Released Essence
- Recalled Existence
- Absolute Unbecoming

Here the Absolution process releases the spheres of existence from the bonds of manifestation and relations, consummated and dissolving into a latent expressionless field. Potential emptiness without catalysis – neither existence nor non-existence.

In Summary

Our roadmap of conscious evolution unfolds over three stages and three domains of concern – the Initial Path of the Human Sphere, the Adept Path of the Noumenal Sphere, and the Beyond Path of the Unbound Sphere. These are major milestones of progressively refined and liberated consciousness – from the bondage of ignorance to the absolute unbinding of a subject self, and beyond – into the reflected process of existence itself, integrating the essence of each individual's journey of absolution.

This framework is not a prescription – it is a description provided as a roadmap for our orientation, as a heads-up for the long road ahead. It describes stations of evolution that may be directly witnessed and experienced by any instance of consciousness – such as you – in a journey of self-discovery and transcendence of everything you ever imagined you were, you are, or you might be. In unbinding from the conditions that orbit the ego of a subject, our veiled little planet gradually rejoins the liberated universe.

More than distant destinations, the stations of conscious evolution are also spheres of contemplation. Each station is a dimension of awareness we may touch in our meditations – drawing of its power and wisdom, enriching our present and infusing our evolution with essences from the "future". In closing, let us remember that imagination, understanding, and even feelings and visions of these stations – are not the same as the liberations upon their actual attainment. We are not done until we are unbound.

I, the human –

A sad robot bound in habits;

Waking up, seek seeds of truth;

And what I plant, I cultivate;

Then harvest essence, integrate;

Align, ascend, and radiate.

... and I am Unified.

I, the existential –

In elements I warp and woof,

A seer from the primal sphere,

A hologram of mirror's tales,

I release, vanish, ultimate.

... and I am Nothing.

I, the universe –
Echoes of the essence beam,
Kernel avatars of stream,
Absolute in stateless field.
... but Fullness in Emptiness.

So it concludes.

Happy trails.

See you.
